Introduction

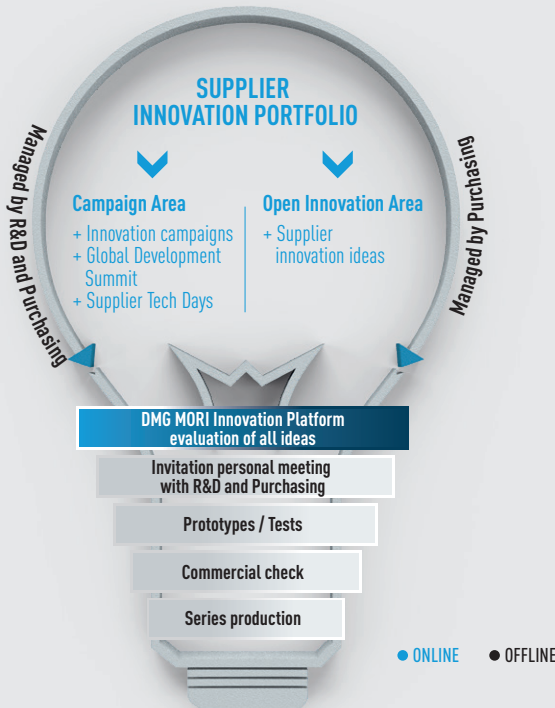

Strategic opportunities for DMG MORI are offered by a lasting innovation and technology leadership as well as the highest quality in our machine tools and services.

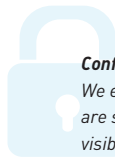

We consistently implement this throughout our entire value chain: from research and development to production, sales, service and purchasing. This gives us the opportunity to sustainably maintain and continuously expand our position in numerous markets.

The know-how of the suppliers plays an important role for the technological lead as well as customer-oriented and competitive products. We need motivated and reliable suppliers who support us in satisfying our customers.

Our platform offers space for everyone to present exclusive ideas continuously. Here you can proactively add new product ideas or innovative services to this platform.

With our Open Innovation approach, we implement innovation management.
